What’s happening Week 6?

UCLA Cal Teach: Spring 2019
UCLA Cal Teach is now accepting applications for Spring 2019 seminars and internships! The following courses are being offered for Spring 2019: Math 71SL (Elementary School, Math Focus); Math 72SL (Middle School, Math Focus); Science Education 1SL (Elementary School, Science Focus); and Science Education 10SL (Middle School, Science Focus). All are 2 units, pass/no pass, and are associated with an internship over the quarter. The priority application deadline is Wednesday, February 13th, however applications will be accepted through the first week of Spring quarter until all spots are filled. For more information and to apply, visit www.cateach.ucla.edu/content/online-applications.

Library Prize for Undergraduate Research
Excited about a recent research paper or project? The UCLA Library wants to recognize the remarkable work of undergraduate students and research teams. Submissions are judged by a library/faculty panel, and successful submissions will be awarded prizes ranging from $350-$700. Applications are now open for the 2019 Library Prize for Undergraduate Research and submissions are due by Monday, April 1st. For more information, visit www.library.ucla.edu/library-prize. For any questions, contact libraryprize@library.ucla.edu.

CSW Undergraduate Awards & Grants
The UCLA Center for the Study of Women is now accepting applications from UCLA undergraduate students for 2018-2019 CSW Awards and Grants! The grants and awards include: Travel Grants (Covers travel expenses related to academic or professional conference presentations and field research on women, gender, and sexuality); Constance Coiner Undergraduate Prize (For students with an early interest in working-class and feminist issues, as well as activist practice for social change); Elizabeth Blackwell, M.D., Undergraduate Award (Recognizes students for an outstanding research report, thesis, or published article related to women and health or women in health-related endeavors); and Renaissance Award (For female students whose college careers were interrupted or delayed by family and/or career obligations). The application deadline for all awards is Monday, April 1st. For more information and to apply, visit https://csw.ucla.edu/funding/undergraduate-students/. For any questions, contact Kristina Magpayo Nyden, Management Services Officer.

Taking Classes Pass/No Pass

Are you interested in taking a class pass/no pass? Are you unsure about the effect a pass/no pass grading basis will have on your GPA? Look no further because we have compiled all the information you need about taking a class pass/no pass.

What is Pass/No Pass?
The Pass/No Pass grading option is designed to give students the opportunity to explore areas of academic interest outside your area of expertise without the risk of jeopardizing your GPA.

Eligibility for Pass/No Pass
You must be in good academic standing (2.0 cumulative GPA and 2.0 GPA during the previous term). Students on Probation or who are Subject to Dismissal are not eligible to take classes pass/no pass.

How many units of Pass/No Pass can I take each quarter?
Provided that you are in good academic standing, you may take up to 5 units pass/no pass each quarter. However, if you did not take any classes pass/no pass during a quarter you were eligible to do so, you are eligible to take up to 10 units pass/no pass the following quarter.

Equivalent Letter Grades for Pass/No Pass
To receive a Pass and units towards graduation, you must earn a C or better in the class. A C- or below will result in a No Pass and no units will be applied towards graduation.

Limits on Pass/No Pass
Any classes taken as preparation for the major or for the major itself cannot be taken Pass/No Pass. Courses taken for a minor may not be taken Pass/No Pass. Additionally, courses taken to satisfy Entry Level Writing, Writing I, Writing II, Quantitative Reasoning, or Diversity requirements may not be taken Pass/No Pass. When in doubt about whether a certain course may be taken Pass/No Pass, consult with your departmental or college counselor.

When is the last day to change to Pass/No Pass?
The last day to change the grading basis of a class with a fee on MyUCLA is Friday of Week 6 (February 15th). No signatures or petitions are needed up to this date. There is a per-class fee for changing the grading basis of a class past Week 3 ($5 per class). After Friday of Week 6, you must submit a Late Change of Credit Detail Petition to your counseling unit. Keep in mind that these petitions are very difficult to get approved. Please note that the Pass/No Pass grading option was created to allow students to explore different areas of academic interest. This grading option is not intended to cover circumstances of poor performance, superior performance, poor judgment, change of major, or illness. The grading option is also not meant to be reversible late in the quarter to allow a student who has performed well to take advantage of a good grade and boost one’s GPA.

CONDUITS

Are you looking for hidden campus gems to enhance your time at UCLA? Look no further! Every week Conduits will feature a campus resource, selected by our very own ASK Peer Counselors, that will help you maximize your academic and social experience at UCLA.

Interested in learning about studying abroad, but not sure how to get more information? The best place to go to for any questions related to studying abroad is the International Education Office (IEO). The IEO oversees both the UCLA Summer Travel Study Program and the University of California Education Abroad Program (UCEAP), both of which are great options depending on the type of study abroad experience you are looking for. The IEO advisors and program coordinators can advise you on academic, cultural, and financial issues related to studying abroad. They can also help you determine which programs are right for you. You can find informational webinars that cover basic fundamentals, different program options, financial aid and much more, by visiting the IEO in Murphy Hall Room 1332 or on their website.
