What’s happening Week 7?

College to Career: Senior Edition
Graduating seniors, you are invited to join UCLA’s Career Center for an informative and engaging program geared towards providing you with tools and resources to successfully launch your career in the “real world”. The workshop will feature a keynote presentation by Tai Esteban Sunnanon about Values-Based Career Decision Making. There will be two identical rounds of workshops, which will cover the first 90 days of the job, managing your personal finances, and evaluating job offers and negotiating a salary. The event will take place Thursday May 31st from 3-6 pm in Covel Commons. All participants will be eligible to be selected for a professional etiquette dinner (6:00 pm–8:00 pm) following this event. Please note that there are limited slots for this event, so make sure to RSVP here.

Summer Course: Asian 135: Asian Foodways across Borders
The Department of Asian Languages and Cultures is announcing a NEW COURSE for Summer C! The course will examine foodways in China, Japan, and Korea from the 19th century to the present, looking at how Asian and Western foods have impacted each other across time and place. Within the framework of food studies, students will see how foods convey layers of meaning, such as nostalgia, class, gender, and morality. This course will also help students gain insight into how the political, economic, and cultural forces of globalization manifest themselves in everyday life. This course will occur during Session C on Tuesdays and Thursdays from 1:00-3:20 pm in Humanities 135. To learn more about this class and other classes offered during the summer, visit the Schedule of Classes.

Career Options in Real Estate Workshop
Interested in real estate? The UCLA Career Center will be hosting a workshop called Career Options in Real Estate to educate students about the different career paths available in the real estate field. Learn about residential, commercial, legal, and financial career options within the field of real estate. The event will include lunch and a professional panel featuring alumni with a variety of specializations. This event will take place on Monday, May 14th from 12-2 pm on the third floor of the Career Center in Conference Room A/B.

Academic and Tutoring Resources

Are you in a challenging class? Are you interested in supplementing your classes with tutoring or peer learning sessions? Look no further because CAC has a list of tutoring and academic resources so that you can make the most of your academic experience!

Life Science Core Peer Learning Center
Staffed by Peer Learning Facilitators, the Life Science Core Peer Learning Center offers free learning support aimed at developing academic skills, critical thinking, and independent learning. PLF sessions are offered for each of the LS core classes. To sign up for a PLF session or to learn more, visit https://www.lscore.ucla.edu/ls-core-peer-learning/.

Student Math Center
The Student Math Center offers group study and tutorials for lower division math courses. The Center additionally offers help for specific math courses every hour, but students can also drop by for help with any lower division math course. For more information, visit www.math.ucla.edu/ugrad/smc.

Student Retention Center Test Bank
Students can access old graded quizzes, exams, and essays for UCLA courses that students who previously took the course submit to the SRC Test Bank. Most courses do have old files but some do not, as departments may restrict their access. To gain access to exam files, you must share an old graded quiz, exam, or essay from a class that you took at UCLA. Students in their first quarter at UCLA will be granted access for their first registered quarter without needing to submit a graded quiz, exam, or essay. You must schedule a same-day, five-minute appointment at the Students Activities Center, Suite 105 to access the files. To learn more about the test bank, visit www.cpo.ucla.edu/src.

Writing Success Program
WSP offers 1-on-1 writing and creativity counseling appointments. WSP prefers to work with students who are at the beginning of their writing process for a particular paper. WSP does not provide proofreading services. Daily drop-in hours for WSP are available at the Student Activities Center in Suite 105. For more information, visit www.cpo.ucla.edu/src/writing-success-program/

Chemistry Tutors
For students who desire 1-on-1 tutoring for Chemistry, the undergraduate office compiles a list of graduate students who are willing to tutor college students. The list includes their contact information and the specific subjects they would be willing to teach. These tutoring services are not free and the tutor will set his/her own rates. Please contact graduate students on this list individually for tutoring costs and availability. Quarterly tutoring lists can be located at 4006 Young Hall or on the Chemistry and Biochemistry webpage at https://www.chemistry.ucla.edu/undergraduate.

GRADUATION TIPS: OTHER CEREMONIES

In keeping with the forthcoming Commencement celebrations, this quarter the Conduits column will feature graduation tips! For all of your commencement concerns, read each week's edition of The Connection to stay up-to-date on the latest commencement news. Even if you’re not a graduating senior this year, knowing these graduation tidbits will be helpful.

Keep in mind that there are more graduation ceremonies than just the General Commencement and the various departmental ceremonies. For instances, members and allies of the LGBTQ community can participate in the Lavender Graduation, which will take place this year on Saturday, June 16th from 1:00 to 3:00 pm in Korn Convocation Hall. Additionally, students with dependents can participate in the Parenting Student Graduation that will take place Sunday, June 17th from 1:00 to 4:00 pm in De Neve Commons Auditorium. Your dependent(s) can wear a cap and gown with you to receive commendation and validation for your accomplishments. After the ceremony, there will be a child friendly reception with food, light refreshments, and children's activities. The Afrikan Student Union Celebration will take place on Sunday, June 17th at 4:00 pm in Wilson Plaza. Visit the commencement website for a full list of all student celebrations.
