What’s happening Week 6?

Community Engagement and Social Change Minor Info Session
Are you interested in addressing systemic inequity through active participation in your community? Are you interested in examining traditions of social justice activism? The Community Engagement and Social Change Minor might be for you! Through service learning, coursework, internships, and research, the minor will help you develop the knowledge, skills, and ability to create change. Attend the information session on Wednesday, February 12th from 1-2pm at 1224 Campbell Hall to learn more about the minor, its requirements, and perks of being in the minor. For more information, visit the website or check out the Facebook event page!

UCLA Disability Studies Minor Information Session
What does it mean to be “normal”? Explore this question and other questions about disability, the body, representation, and access with the Disability Studies Minor. Learn about ‘disability’ as a social construction and intellectual framework to understand the human experience. Through a core course, carefully selected electives, a required two-quarter internship, and a senior capstone, students in the minor obtain breadth and depth in their understanding of the conceptual and practical implications of disability. Once you know what to look for, you can find ‘disability’ everywhere. Attend an information session on Tuesday, February 11th from 2-3pm at A316 Murphy Hall to get an introduction to disability studies and explain how to apply to the minor. Sign up via MyUCLA > Workshops > Search “Disability Studies Info Session”.

Labor Summer Research Program
Interested in learning about how working students navigate barriers and opportunities in fulfilling their career and other goals? Join the Labor Summer Research Program! Students will have the unique opportunity to immerse themselves in applied research focused on social, economic, and political context and experiences of earners and learners—those who work and attend college in Los Angeles county. The study draws from academic readings, policy reports, and other media; and guest lecturers from labor organizations and public colleges. Become part of the Labor Center research project that documents the impact of working on education, and vice versa, for earners and learners. Develop an understanding of critical debates regarding role of research and policy as it relates to working students in Los Angeles. For more information, click here!

Taking Classes Pass/No Pass

Are you interested in taking a class pass/no pass? Are you unsure about the effect a pass/no pass grading basis will have on your GPA? Look no further because we have compiled all the information you need about taking a class pass/no pass.

What is Pass/No Pass?
The Pass/No Pass grading option is designed to give students the opportunity to explore areas of academic interest outside your area of expertise without the risk of jeopardizing your GPA.

Eligibility for Pass/No Pass
You must be in good academic standing (2.0 cumulative GPA and 2.0 GPA during the previous term). Students on Probation or who are Subject to Dismissal are not eligible to take classes pass/no pass.

How many units of Pass/No Pass can I take each quarter?
Provided that you are in good academic standing, you may take up to 5 units pass/no pass each quarter. However, if you did not take any classes pass/no pass during a quarter you were eligible to do so, you are eligible to take up to 10 units pass/no pass the following quarter.

Equivalent Letter Grades for Pass/No Pass
To receive a Pass and units towards graduation, you must earn a C or better in the class. A C- or below will result in a No Pass and no units will be applied towards graduation.

Limits on Pass/No Pass
Any classes taken as preparation for the major or for the major itself cannot be taken Pass/No Pass. Courses taken for a minor may not be taken Pass/No Pass. Additionally, courses taken to satisfy Entry Level Writing, Writing I, Writing II, Quantitative Reasoning, or Diversity requirements may not be taken Pass/No Pass. When in doubt about whether a certain course may be taken Pass/No Pass, consult with your departmental or college counselor.

When is the last day to change to Pass/No Pass?
The last day to change the grading basis of a class with a fee on MyUCLA is Friday of Week 6 (February 15th). No signatures or petitions are needed up to this date. There is a per-class fee for changing the grading basis of a class past Week 3 ($5 per class). After Friday of Week 6, you must submit a Late Change of Credit Detail Petition to your counseling unit. Keep in mind that these petitions are very difficult to get approved. Please note that the Pass/No Pass grading option was created to allow students to explore different areas of academic interest. This grading option is not intended to cover circumstances of poor performance, superior performance, poor judgment, change of major, or illness. The grading option is also not meant to be reversible late in the quarter to allow a student who has performed well to take advantage of a good grade and boost one's GPA.

CONDUITS

Are you looking for hidden campus gems to enhance your time at UCLA? Look no further! Every week Conduits will feature a campus resource, selected by our very own ASK Peer Counselors, that will help you maximize your academic and social experience at UCLA.

Located in Kerckhoff Hall 128, the UCLA Transfer Student Center is committed to serving UCLA transfer students by providing resources and services to help them navigate UCLA. The Transfer Center engages the transfer community by organizing events, activities, office hours, as well as mentoring and student staff outreach to help transfers find their community on UCLA’s large campus. In addition, to all the events and initiatives the UCLA Transfer Student Center organizes, the Transfer Center itself is a space where transfers and commuter students can relax, study, and meet other students! Ever heard of Bruin Transfer Pride week? The Transfer Student Center partners with over 18 UCLA departments, programs and student organizations to have events, community service opportunities, and workshops that celebrate the transfer student community.
