What’s happening Week 4?

Undergraduate Student Initiated Education Applications
Interested in facilitating your own seminar? USIE is a unique program designed to allow students to facilitate a seminar of their own design and enhance their overall undergraduate experience at UCLA. The Undergraduate Student Initiated Education (USIE) is an innovative program designed to provide a select group of juniors and seniors with the opportunity to develop and facilitate, under close faculty supervision, a lower division seminar for their peers. Through the independent study courses and pedagogy seminars, Student Facilitators develop a formal syllabus for their Spring seminars for review and approval by the USIE Faculty-Student Advisory Committee and the Faculty Executive Committee (FEC). UCLA CAPPP Quarter in Washington Program Info Sessions
Looking to intern in Washington DC? Participate in the UCLA Center for American Politics and Public Policy Program (CAPPP)! CAPPP sends 30 UCLA undergraduates to study in Washington each fall, winter, and spring quarter. Each quarter offers the same one-on-one faculty interaction and meaningful internship placements. The program offers a structured and supportive introduction to independent research, intensive attention to students’ intellectual development and writing skills, exciting internships, and the chance to make life-long career connections at the national level. All majors are welcome. Attend an information session at 4375 Public Affairs! For more information on dates and times, click here!

Food Studies Minor Info Session
Interested in learning more about food and its relation to our society? If so, join us for an information session about UCLA’s Food Studies minor, on Thursday, February 6th from 3:30-4:30 PM at A-316 Murphy Hall. Learn more about minor and what you’ll be learning about —its production, preparation, sharing, consumption, and disposal—as a lens for understanding individual, socio-cultural, and global issues. This interdisciplinary minor is open to all majors. Topics discussed during the session include a general overview of the minor, requirements, and how to apply. An RSVP is required, so if you wish to attend, please be sure you make a reservation through MyUCLA or through Facebook.
