What’s happening Week 5?

International Alumni Panel
Thinking about your options after graduating UCLA? Come hear about the experiences of UCLA international student alumni! A diverse panel of alumni will share their experience on being a UCLA international student alumni, navigating career options after UCLA, and any advice they have for current international students. This event is free and snacks will also be provided! The International Alumni Panel event will take place on Monday, April 29th from 5pm-6:30pm at the Tom Bradley International Hall Room 300. For more information and to register, visit the Dashew Center website or visit https://www.facebook.com/events/2424870167743381/.

Inside Careers in Mathematics
In collaboration with the Mathematics Department, the Career Center brings you Inside Careers in Mathematics! Curious about your career possibilities outside of academia? In this TED style talk you will have the opportunity to learn from professionals and identify career paths in various industries that utilize your mathematics training. Inside Careers in Mathematics will take place on Tuesday, April 30th from 4pm-6pm at the Career Center Conference Rooms A & B. For more information about presenters for this event and to RSVP, visit https://app.joinhandshake.com/events/290614.

Transfer Mentor Program Application
The Transfer Mentor Program is now accepting applications! Take your UCLA transfer experience to the next level and apply to be a part of a cohort of committed, passionate leaders who are ready to grow in mentorship skills while also receiving coaching and career development. The purpose of the program is to share knowledge, create community, and empower agency in new transfers in a way that will facilitate a smooth transition to UCLA! This position is not paid, however a majority of resources and attention are invested into the mentors by providing exclusive professional development workshops, resources, and opportunities! This role is only available to current first year transfers who are available during the entire upcoming academic year. There will be an info session on Monday, May 6th from 6pm-8pm at the Transfer Student Center, where there will be current mentors available to talk about their experience in the program. The application is due on Monday, May 6th and can be found by visiting the Transfer Mentor Application form. If you have any questions, email hadams@saonet.ucla.edu or vbusseyneal@saonet.ucla.edu.
Expected Cumulative Progress

Have you been wondering what ECP is? Then no worries, because we’re diving into this College policy in this week’s newsletter!

What is ECP?
The Expected Cumulative Progress Policy (ECP) is designed to promote 4-year graduation for undergraduates in the College of Letters and Science. ECP is a progress check that occurs every two registered quarters freshmen-admits are enrolled.

Is everyone held to ECP?
No, only students who entered as freshmen are held to ECP. If you entered UCLA as a transfer student, you are not held to ECP.

When do ECP checks occur?
ECP checks occur on registered even-numbered quarters. If a student is consistently enrolled at UCLA in the first year, their academic progress will be checked once after Winter Quarter (Quarter 2, completed 27 UC units). During the second year, the student’s academic progress is checked twice (Quarters 4 and 6).

Do AP/IB credits count towards ECP?
AP/IB credit and any community college courses completed during high school and prior to UCLA matriculation DO NOT count for ECP. ECP only checks for units completed after you become a UCLA student.

What if I do not comply with ECP?
1st Shortage: If you do not meet ECP unit targets during a monitored term, a hold is placed on your record. To remove the hold you need to complete a short online workshop found on CCLE.

2nd Shortage: Another hold is automatically placed on your record. To remove the hold, you need to meet with a College Counselor to discuss your progress and create a program plan.

3rd Shortage: A hold is automatically placed on your record. You need to meet with a College Counselor to check your academic progress. If you can graduate in 4 years, you may file an ECP Exemption. If you are not graduating in 4 years you need to file an ECP Appeal. Once filed, a committee will review your ECP Exemption or Appeal. If approved, your hold is removed. If your plan is not approved or if you do not follow your plan, you may be required to complete units at another institution.

What does an ECP hold do?
ECP holds will prevent you from making current study list changes on MyUCLA (e.g. change of grading basis, drop a course) and prevent enrollment for the following term. Campus services may also be restricted. ECP holds are typically placed after your monitored term during week 5.

Please visit your counseling unit for any further questions about ECP!

CONDUITS

Are you looking for hidden campus gems to enhance your time at UCLA? Look no further! Every week Conduits will feature a campus resource, selected by our very own ASK Peer Counselors, that will help you maximize your academic and social experience at UCLA.

The Bruin Strong Resilience Project is a multimedia project that seeks to normalize challenges, failures, and setbacks during the college experience, and to build community amongst students so that they are aware that we have all dealt with failure, rejection or disappointment. In our effort to highlight daily student resilience on campus, we want to showcase real students’ experiences by having them share their story of resilience. If you’re willing to be part of this project, please fill out this form. By submitting your story, you automatically enter to our giveaway to potentially win a UCLA sweater!
